PREVIEW

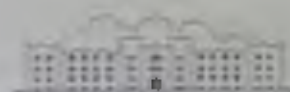

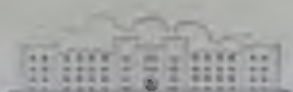

DEDICATION

To Professor B. H. Meyer
who, eighteen years ago, conceived
the idea of a year book for our School; and who, since that date, has been the chief support and inspiration for all editorial staffs; to this profound scholar, master-teacher, Christian gentleman, and faithful friend of all cadets, this volume of The Blue Bonnet is dedicated in affectionate appreciation.

*This page is in appreciation of the School's most distinguished alumnus,
General
Douglas MacArthur
whose exemplary character, tenacious courage and resourceful strategy have endeared him not only to America at large, but also to the cadets of his Alma Mater. Our highest ambition is that we may follow him---even if from afar---and aspire to the ideals that have made him today
the "favorite son" of all the United Nations.*

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest award for individual achievement that a cadet can receive. The members of this Society are chosen by the faculty and must stand high in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The number of members is limited to five per cent of the juniors and fifteen per cent of the seniors. T. M. I. is one of the very few private schools to enjoy the distinction of having a chapter of this Society.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

The purpose of the Honor Council is to promote honesty and self-government, a higher standard of character and integrity, and to develop a fuller sense of responsibility and morality among the students. The members are elected by the student body and carry out the disciplinary functions of the constitution.

OFF GUARD

ECHOES

When the cadets filed out of the banquet — they shook Dr. Bondurant's hand and thanked him for his generous hospitality. Little did they realize that a half-dozen dictaphones, placed under the tables, had recorded their adolescent table — during the meal.

The next morning their teachers — Academics — it was only natural that the knowing ones — wit and wisdom should be echoed, mixed in with the "small change" of the day.

The people of America owe it to the world that liberty is worth fighting for. And if they are obliged to fight, they will fight eternally to hold it.

This duty we owe, not to ourselves alone, but to the many dead who died to gain our freedom for us . . . to make the world a place where freedom can live and grow into the ages."

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, November 11, 1911

IN this year of the centennial of the 1912 start of San Antonio Academy dedicates this section of the Blue Bonnet to Freedom, to Human Freedom, and to the fight for freedom, wherever and whenever the fight has been or is being made, and particularly in our own land.

"YOU ARE MAGNIFICENT"

To the former students of SAN ANTONIO ACADEMY who are now in some branch of the armed services, we extend our best wishes and heartiest congratulations on the noble and patriotic spirit that you are showing.

We are indeed proud of you and of the true courage that you are displaying wherever you are. You have the "stuff" that it takes as you have been trained in patriotism from very infancy, and may you ever emulate the high ideal of American manhood.

Almost daily our old students, now in the Army, the Air Service or the Navy, drop in for a visit, and we are always delighted to see them. They often give us news of your whereabouts, and we in turn are glad when we can tell them where some old friend of their Academy days is now located.

We never cease to be interested in you and in what you are doing, and when the road gets hard and the going is "tuff", we want you to know that we are with you in spirit and that our prayers are ever with you and for you.

The world must be made safe for democracy. Its peace must be planted upon the tested foundations of political liberty. We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominion. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. We shall be satisfied when those rights have been made as secure as the faith and the freedom of nations can make them.

To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she had treasured. God helping her, she can do no other.

MOTHERS' EXAMPLE

The mothers of some of us gathered poppies to obtain opium for military hospitals. They dug up the dirt from the smokehouses to drain salt from the earth. They parched corn and acorns to get a substitute for coffee. They tore up their shorts and petticoats to make lint for the hospitals. And how they would scorn us if they could hear us grumbling because we have to use automobile tires overtime!—DAILY OKLAHOMAN

The power of oratory was never more convincingly demonstrated than when in March, 1775, in old St. John's Church in Richmond, Virginia, the fiery-tongued Patrick Henry stood forth and declaimed:

"Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Like a flame the report of Henry's ringing appeal spread throughout the colonies and did much to usher in the Revolution.

The San Antonio Academy Council of the American Junior Red Cross was begun on November 17, 1941. On that day the officers of the four groups were elected. They are shown above with their names below the picture. The four memberships were secured on November 19. At the same time four dollars were donated to the Red Cross service fund.

A few days later, the boys started to collect waste paper and coat hangers. The first batch of paper was sold on January 27, 1942. It brought $2.48. The coat hangers have not been sold yet. We are still collecting paper.

Academy boys are very glad that we have a part, small though it may be, in helping America at this critical time through Red Cross work.

TIM WEAKLEY

"The Lady With the Lamp," was the affectionate way the British soldiers in the military hospitals of the Russian Crimea spoke of Florence Nightingale during the Crimean War. This frail figured but tender hearted English gentlewoman left her sheltered home in England to take charge of hospitals in the Crimea, and because of her daily custom of visiting the cots of the soldiers at night with a lamp in her hand, she Angel of Mercy that she was, became known throughout the hospital base as "The Lady With the Lamp."

The Red Cross societies of the world had their inspiration and inception in the noble example of Florence Nightingale. The American Red Cross was founded in 1881 by Clara Barton, whose life in many ways paralleled that of Miss Nightingale's. During the American Civil War, Miss Barton nursed the wounded soldiers of the North, and because of her habit of being not far behind the front lines, she became known as "The Angel of the Battlefield."

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: 'tis dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as freedom should not be highly rated."

—From "The Crisis," published by THOMAS PAINE, in 1776, at a time when the patriot cause was passing through its darkest hours.

Basket ball reached the height of interest at the Academy this year with two teams entered in the Bexar County Junior Conference. These were a Midget team and a "C" team. From fifteen to twenty other boys played or worked out during our play periods. In this connection we should not forget the Termites.

The Midgets were undefeated in Conference play, scoring 162 points to their opponents' 99 in seven games. The "C's" broke even in Conference play, winning 5 and losing 5, while scoring 166 points to their opponents' 172.

Letter men for the season were Connolly, Dugay, Elliott, Hilgartner, Hill, Johnson, Melgar, Merck, Palmer, Troost, and Zepeda.

"ON MY LIFE AND HONOR—"

"On my life and honor I swear that this arm shall never rest until it has delivered America from the yoke of tyrants."

SIMON BOLIVAR

How well Bolivar put this declaration into force is shown by the fact that after being victor in 200 battles, he freed from foreign domination six South American countries, among which was Venezuela, his native land

"MY COUNTRY, 'TIS OF THEE—"

*My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.*

*Our fathers' God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing:
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King.*

From "America"

Written in 1832 by the REVEREND SAMUEL SMITH

WARS ARE WON ON wheels

On the battlefield, and behind the lines, wheels play a vital part in modern warfare. Transportation is essential for the nation's armed forces and its workers.

Our job is to transport more and more workers to their jobs every day.

Your transit system accepts this task—the most challenging it has ever faced. As the need increases, we are stepping up and expanding service to the limit of our resources. This is our pledge to you . . . and to America!
